Continuous Support and Steady Progress

The primary reason for Wamy's success and accomplishments is the continued support it receives from the Saudi leadership, starting with the late King Faisal right up to the prosperous era of King Salman. It is under their umbrella that WAMY has aspired to reach new heights, achieve the highest of goals and attain the most admirable of objectives to meet the aspirations of youth around the world.

General Assembly

- 1- Wamy's general assembly is the authority in charge of approving WAMY's laws, regulations, and policies as well as voting in a new secretary general and members of the board of trustees.
- 2- It is comprised of representatives of WAMY's active member youth organizations around the world.
- 3- It convenes once every four years.

Conferences:

International Presence:

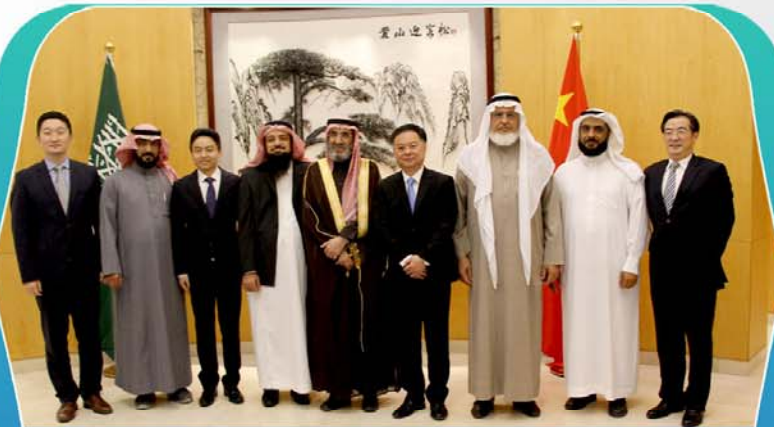

WAMY enjoys exceptional relations with the diplomatic community within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and abroad. This is reflected in mutual meetings, ongoing communication, and regular coordination regarding the implementation of specific projects and programs designed to enhance international relations and embody the principle of friendship and cooperation that the Kingdom calls for.

WAMY has a positive importance globally, and this has been achieved by its active participation in a variety of international conferences and global forums in both its official and civil capacities. WAMY's participation covers multiple fields including the intellectual, relief, scientific, medical, media and educational fields, to name but a few. Its pioneering footprint reflects Saudi Arabia's humanitarian vision and favorable Islamic position.

His Excellency the President of Djibouti, along with Wamy Secretary General, inaugurates Wamy National Center in Djibouti

His Excellency the Secretary General of Wamy with delegates in cordial visit to the Embassy of China in Riyadh.

His Excellency the Kyrgyz Minister of Foreign Affairs, in a visit to Wamy.

Looking ahead to the Future:

WAMY's renewed vision focuses in particular on the future of youth and, more generally, on the nation itself. It deals with international developments with complete flexibility that serves its goals and bestows openness, inclusivity and perfection on its programs and projects. WAMY welcomes constructive criticism and seeks to improve its performance by benefiting from constructive ideas and proposals. WAMY is the global pulse of youth, working to meet their needs around the world.

House of Experience and Entrepreneurship:

WAMY has been blessed with a cadre of highly qualified advisors, administrators, and executive officers who are intellectually distinguished and academically qualified. Despite the many changes it has experienced throughout the years, WAMY has remained afloat, refusing to engulf itself in darkness or allow itself to be carried in the wrong direction by misguided currents. In fact, it has progressed with firm steps and a clear approach to achieving the goals for which it was established as the first global body specialized in youth affairs.

Thus, with the grace of God and the support of the Kingdom's leadership, WAMY's structure was established. It has combined both expertise and leadership as a result of its experiences, initiatives, programs, contributions, and global partnerships. It has attracted experts in youth volunteerism and integrated with youth organizations in terms of means.
